Football

A. The Warriors lineup with John Mattila, Gary McBride, Gary Feletar, and Ken Jensen.

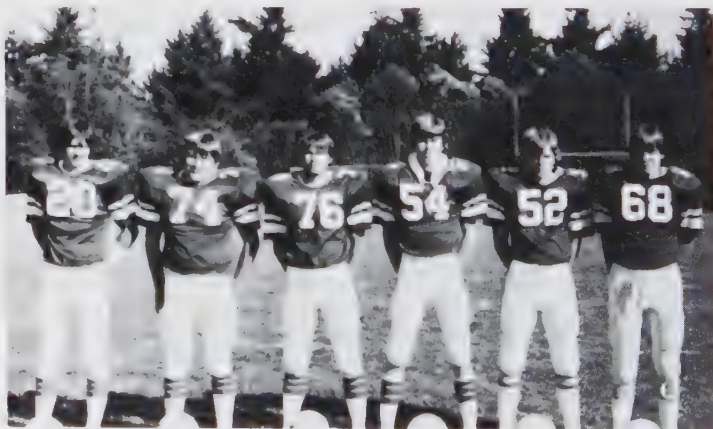

B. The Warriors Varsity backs: Top-row L-R, Terry Miller, Mike Engbretson, Gary Abraham, Rick Sutton. Bottom L-R, Cliff Bussert, David Koskela, Kevin Godwin, Marvin Peters, Gary Martin.

C. The Warriors Varsity linemen: L-R, Buddy Brandon, John Little, Willie Nyberg, Steve Ladd, Hap Pucket, Rick Baumann.

The Warriors finished the 1981 season with a fine 7 and 2 record and a birth in the state playoffs. The team's success can be attributed to the traditionally strong Warrenton Defense which only allowed 5 touchdowns in 9 regular season games. This year's team played with unity and pride, and was lead by a very unselfish group of seniors of which the whole school and community were very proud.

—Coach Mattila

Varsity

VOLLEYBALL VOLL

Cassie Gramson, a varsity member stated that the season was a lot of fun. The team did better than they expected, although they had the potential to do better. This Warrior Squad tried hard and did an excellent job. Even without a winning season the team's spirit pulled them together and much team and individual confidence was gained. Beating Astoria was the highlight that boosted this confidence. As the team said, "There's always next year."

ORGANIZATIONS

Student Council

Legislates Activities And Fund Raisers

When I was elected Student Body President I knew I had a challenge ahead of me. It takes a lot of cooperation from all the members of student council to be a success. This year student council was successful because of this cooperation. Homecoming was one of the most successful things we did. Sophomores were the victors in the competition. Eight members of student council attended a workshop in Eugene during the Fall. It proved a very enjoyable learning experience. We previewed the media production Everyday Heroes which was shown to student body in the Spring. We were visited by the Air Force Band and also a foreign exchange student. Student council also sponsored two Red Cross Blood Drives and collected 90 pints of blood. The Cystic Fibrosis Mushball Tournament was played in May and hopefully will continue to be an annual event. There were some things as a student council we didn't accomplish, but we hope they will be completed by next year's student council. Kenna Kay Dunn

Choir Goes On Tour

The '82 Choir went on tour in April- seeing the sites of Westport, Squim, and Victoria, Canada. Choir students enjoyed the opportunity of getting to visit different schools and perform. They had several fund raisers to help pay for the trip, such as, a dance, litter baskets, and a candy sale. The choir also went to Portland Christian for a concert critique, "The battle of the Choirs", where they did very well.

The 1982 Sachem Chief Staff worked hard to put out twelve exciting issues of the paper. Students studied techniques in layout, writing and editing, spending most of their 6th period gathering interviews and other information for each issue. This year a few new additions were made to the paper. All the copy was type set by the Daily Astorian who also printed the paper. Other additions to the staff were cartoonists, Bob Gazewood and Stuart Snodgrass who brought Crazy Jack the cartoon strip to Warrenton High School.

In Competition And Concerts

The band had a busy and successful year performing and participating in adjudications. Several members were adjudicated at a seminar held at George Fox College and scored high. The Band's fine music entertained crowds during games and for the grade school. Clatsop C.C. Art Center was the site for a well received concert for the public on April 23. A culminating activity for the band saw them hosting the League Band Festival May 12 in the Warrenton gym. During the day adjudications were held and a public concert was performed in the evening.

Writing Workshops Highlight Year

Poetry and writing workshops highlighted this year's English program, as twelve select students including all grade levels attended Linfield College for critique of their work by poets in residence. A second poetry and short story workshop at Clatsop Community College was attended by twenty eight students, who submitted work for critique in group sessions of students and hosting professors. Seven students entered the Readers' Digest personal experience contest and as a final activity the senior English class created a literary magazine with the theme "We are born, we live, we die". This publication included original graphics, short stories, poetry and serious essays. It was designed to reflect the various writing produced during the year and as a memento for seniors. Mr. Warren's English students were involved in basic English curriculum, studying speech, drama, writing skills, poetry and short stories. Mr. Mortland's freshman class studied Animal Farm, The Pearl, Red Pony and Romeo and Juliet.

- A. Members of senior English, Carla Heinrich, Pam Page, Tina Ahlers, Scott Killian concentrate on term papers.
- B. Freshmen, John Cameron, Larry Gidding, and Sean McKinney busily write essays on the topic "The Most Important Thing Happening in the World Today".

- D. David Koskela, Anita Crow, Dickie Newton, Tony Fettig, Dave Appleby and Jill Patnode portray various moods in Mrs. Rupp's senior English.

Mathematics

Basic Skills And Computers
Afford Students
A Full Curriculum

The mathematics department headed by Betty Mosar, consisted of the course offerings; trigonometry, geometry, algebra I and II, general math, senior math, and computer awareness. Students enjoyed in depth study in all aspects of mathematics. The year 1982 was the second year for the computer awareness class taught by Gary McBride. Programming editing, and executing computer programs were a few of the exercises done in class. Warrenton was the first school in this area to have a micro computer.

- A. Lawrence Hiler mans the computer in computer awareness class.
- B. Pat Miller looks up from his computer work as Bob Gazewood awaits his turn to operate the machine.
- C. Pat Miller watches Mike Holmes and Jill Patnode exchange smiles during senior math class.

B. Dan Robbins cinches up his soft sculpture, "Thor", who played a "lowly sophomore" in senior hall decorations.

C. Drawing class members, Aaron Baldwin, Eugene Doney, Heidi Heinrich and Jackie Cooper pose on "Punk Day".

D. Julie Ensor took a break from calligraphy to hug Thor while

E. Randy Jones and Bob Gazewood were engrossed with lettering.

F. He's got legs, Tim Jarvis that is, as Eugene Doney and Jackie Cooper studied his pose. Totally "to the Max" the art dept. experienced great friendships and produced many creative works.

Social Studies

Takes A Look At Past And Present

The Social Studies Department offered the courses, Global Studies, Modern Problems and U.S. History, all of which are graduation requirements. Students learned alot about their country's history from Mr. Warren, a very knowledgeable historian. Remember those detailed lectures and weekly essay exams. The laws, our constitution and political events were subjects studied in modern problems with Mr. Cole giving his weekly trivia quizzes to test students' knowledge of current events taken from reading magazines and listening to daily news. Mr. Ridout's modern problems class also studied the background elements of law and constitution and concentrated heavily on discussions of current events.

A. Mr. Cole jokes with Stacey Hanson, saying he will be glad for her to be joining his Modern Problems class next year.

B. Mr. Warren's World History class listens hard as he explains the post events of World War II.

C. Mr. Ridout head of the Social Studies department, concentrates on his notes for Modern Problems class.

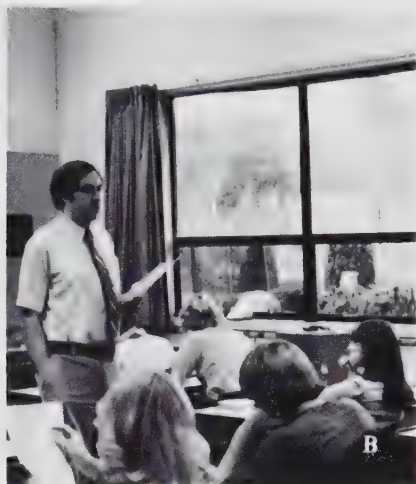

D. Tina Ahlers works to complete her assignment for Modern Problems on Alienation - a basic problem found in our society today.

Business And Careers Prepares For Students Future

The year of 1982 was one of growth and achievement, as the business department added a new course, "Careers" required of all seniors. The department also taught Typing I and II, Shorthand, Accounting, and Office Practice. There are great opportunities for a person in the field of business and the business department has adapted their curriculum to meet these opportunities. A major emphasis on reliability and efficiency developed these skills, preparing students for the world of work.

A. Patti Barnard works hard in Miss Dewilde's typing class to finish her assignment.

B. Mr. Filori teaches Personal Finance, Careers, and Accounting classes.

C. Connie Sheppard works for a good timing in Typing II.

D. Steve Ladd, Joani Oja, and Debbie Blacknell in accounting class.

The Aquaculture Class Raised Fish For The Future

The Aquaculture class raised fish to release after school gets out. The class spent a lot of time with these fish, feeding them, cleaning their tanks and the hardest thing of all, counting them! The Salmon they raised grew at least two inches during the year.

A. Mike Engebretson, a dedicated Aquaculture student.

B. Gary Martin tends to the tanks as one of his duties in Aquaculture.

C. Mr. Ballman, Aquaculture instructor checks equipment.

D. Mike Engebretson, Terry Miller & Gary Martin hoist their "big catch" from the tank.

Special Ed

An Exceptional Learning Experience

B. Lori Antilla concentrates on her studies in the peaceful atmosphere of the Media Center.

C. Amy Hoff goes through the dreaded box of filing cards for over-due books.

D. The Media Center proved to be a learning experience as shown here by Lisa Bergerson and her class mates.

Posters, bulletin-boards, dance decorations, notebook covers, scrapbooks, art projects, class meetings, research and recreation reading- that is the Media Center. Expansion beyond our school happens when local, state and material sources are tapped for research projects. Individual experiments lead many students to try new fields of interests, speakers and films added color to the Media Center atmosphere.

—Mrs. York

With Activity

A. Lauri Antilla discusses new business at the Junior class meetings.

B. Mrs. Steve assists Anna Stratton in the magazine catalogs to find research for her term paper.

C. Debbie Adams and Mike Barnard break from their studies to joke in front of the camera.

D. Homecoming Court:

Traditions and rituals spiced activities throughout the 1982 school year. Traditional activities included "Spirit Weeks" which saw students dressed in honor of hat day, sock day or sunglasses day. Many Thank You Dances honored spectators, freshmen and sophomores. Girls' League sponsored the Sadie Hawkins Dance while Choir presented the Valentines Dance. The Air Force Band dazzled our student audience and the Media Presentation was a raving success. Rituals of locker decoration raised spirit with the Rally Girls' posters for team members. More personal decoration such as Dan Robbin's "Beattle Mania" and Pam Page's "Rocky Horror Picture Show" posters added visual color to the hallways while the crowds with blaring "ghetto blasters" created the tempo for the day.

Pep Assemblies Dances

The 1982 Classic Warrior Staff would like to extend their sincere appreciation to all faculty members, the Warrenton Student Body, Complete Photographer, Bill Lind, Allan S. Gibbons, and advertisers, that helped throughout the school year.

This yearbook would not have been possible without the following people:

Advisor- Marilyn Denney-Floyd

Editor- Pam Page

Advertising Manager- Anita Crow

Sports Editor- Bob Gazewood

and all staff members- Shawn Smotherman, Kim Carlson, Kathy Gazewood, Carla Heinrich, and Stuart Snodgrass.
